About Me

Hi, I’m Phuc! An Event Production & Project Coordinator focused on turning plans into well-run experiences, combining hands-on operations with a strong understanding of stakeholders and audiences.

Across innovation programmes, brand events and production shoots, I work through the full coordination process: from proposals, timelines and vendor sourcing to on-site operations, expense settlement and post-event reporting.

I believe good coordination is never finished. Every project can be improved, refined and reimagined through careful preparation, feedback and iteration. I keep people, resources and information connected, so that every activity serves the goal it was designed for.

The campaign treats the festival as a contemporary ritual of reunion and sharing and featured limited-edition V.S.O.P. and X.O. bottles created with Jackson Wang, Hennessy’s Global Ambassador.

Thirty guests, including media, KOLs, and celebrities, sat at one long table under a hanging-lantern installation, accompanied by live traditional music. The evening moved from a conversation on tea and spirits, led by the founder of Tea’space, to a pairing of taste and scent from a bartender.
